

CHINA: QINGHAI TOUR

7th – 21st JUNE 2019

Grandala is one of our targets on this trip.

This tour focuses on the northwestern Chinese province of Qinghai, the fourth-largest province in China, but with the third-smallest population in the country. Known as the ‘roof of the world’, much of the province is over 3000 m in elevation (9,800 ft) and formed by the famed Tibetan Plateau. Our tour starts and ends in Xining, the capital of the province, which is also close to the huge, saline Qinghai Lake, after which the province is named.

Our two-week tour traverses across some stunning landscape in pursuit of some exceptional birds of this high-elevation zone, such as Tibetan Sandgrouse, Pallas’s Sandgrouse, Tibetan Snowcock, Tibetan Partridge, Himalayan Snowcock, White Eared Pheasant, Blood Pheasant, Szechenyi’s Monal-Partridge, Ibisbill, Crested Tit-warbler, Snow Pigeon, Black-necked Crane, Tibetan Snowfinch, Tibetan Rosefinch, Tibetan Bunting, Tibetan Babax, Tibetan Serin, Henderson’s Ground Jay, and Grandala.

Please note that the detailed itinerary above cannot be guaranteed as it is only a rough guide and can be changed (usually slightly) due to factors such as availability of accommodation, updated information on the state of accommodation, roads, or birding sites, the discretion of the guides and other factors. In addition, we sometimes have to use a different international guide to the one advertised due to tour scheduling.

This tour can be combined with our two preceding China tours, China: 9-day Yunnan pre-tour 2019 tour and China: 18-day Sichuan 2019 into a mind-boggling 43-day China mega tour. It is even possible to also combine it with our Taiwan Birding Extravaganza 2019 tour, which precedes the Yunnan pre-tour of the Sichuan main tour.
